Area Wide United Crusade Drive Falls Short

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Policemen Lead Hazardous Life

This is a jealous column. We're so jealous that we seldom permit anyone to share opinion with us — and for several reasons.

1. There is too little space to accommodate several writers, and

2. Few writers have philosophy that's good enough for this column.

An exception to the above objections is our special hero, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. When he talks, we listen. When we listen, we hear logic.

Speaking to his officers in the November issue of the FBI LAW ENFORCEMENT BULLETIN, Hoover views the plight of the police officer — and of course, the public. Here's what he told them:

"As a rule, men who have no respect for the law have nothing but contempt for those charged with enforcing it. Thus, the law enforcement officer's task becomes harder and his personal safety diminishes as more crimes are committed and less criminals are brought to justice.

"Last year, 76 police officers were killed in the line of duty. This is 19 more than the number slain in 1966. Since 1960, 411 law enforcement officers have been murdered, an average of more than 51 per year. Of the 539 offenders involved in these killings, 77 percent had been previously arrested and 67 percent had been previously convicted. Two-thirds of the police killers previously convicted had been granted parole or probation, and 3 out of 10 were actively on parole or probation when they killed a police officer.

"Along with the ever-present danger of death, the enforcement officer faces personal injury with increasing frequency. Encouraged, no doubt, by judicial leniency and public indifference, more and more suspects resist arrest and resort to violence when approached by officers. In 1967, almost 14 of every 100 police officers were assaulted, an increase of 11 percent over 1966.

"The rule of law is in jeopardy when law enforcement officers are regularly attacked and slain in the line of duty. Our concept of self-government is endangered when policemen must frequently win a physical struggle while making arrests. And our democratic processes are weakened when officers are publicly condemned and ridiculed for protecting the peaceful against violence and disorder.

"In 1967, policemen were slain on the average of one every 5 days. This is a disgrace. It is particularly shocking when officers are gunned down by convicted criminals who, after exhausting all possible legal relief, are stil on the streets. In one such instance, a convicted robber remained free more than 3 weeks after all of his appeals and petitions had been denied by the courts, a process requiring nearly 2 years. On the 23rd day after the date that he should have been jailed, he murdered a police officer. Is this balanced justice?

"Ours is a government of law. Our Nation's survival depends on effective enforcement of the law. But law enforcement, to be full effective, must receive more public support.

"While law enforcement officers seldom mention the fact, all are keenly aware that the specter of death rides at their side during most of their duty hours. Brave, dedicated men are not deterred from worthy public service by danger alone. But how long can we ask officers to risk their lives when they and the law are not respected?"

Not very much longer, we suspect.

NEARS TOP: Peggy Pierce paints in a pretty picture for Joe Davey, area chairman for the United Crusade campaign in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area as fund workers collected 90 per cent of the goal. Total funds collected to date stand at $7,220. Peggy is Miss Fair Share for 1968. Davey is Manager of the Southland Savings' Lemon Grove Office.

Local Contributions Stop At 90% Mark

The United Crusade drive closed out Tuesday with most agencies falling short of their combined effort of some $5 million.

In Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, some $7,220 was collected representing 90 per cent of the mark set by drive officials for this area.

Joseph Davey, drive chairman for this area pointed out that an increase of 12.5 per cent over 1967's mark had been set by C. A. Phillips, campaign chairman.

He also pointed out that the Southern California First National Bank in Lemon Grove had received a United Crusade Merit Award for their contribution in the program.

It is expected that an extension of the deadline to the Combined Federal Campaign might put the United Crusade over the $5 million mark.

Phillips said that no final report could be given yet. He said that the combined contributions of military and federal government installations in San Diego make up a large portion of the money collected.

The money collected to date some $4,500,000 represents the biggest jump in the Crusade history. Phillips said, "We did not make our goal, and this is indeed regretable.

"We will not be able to fill all the essential needs of our 67 agencies. Nor have we brought San Diego up to the level of giving in other major cities across the nation."

He continued, "But we will break the $5 million barrier. We have raised more money than has ever been raised in a campaign of this sort in San Diego County."

At the Tuesday night meeting with more than 200 Crusade leaders gathered in the Assembly Room at Vacation Village Hotel, the announcement of their new chairman for 1969 was made.

He will be William E. Quirk, vice president and general manager of Pacific Telephone's Southern Counties area. Robert B. "Bud" James, president of the services made the announcement.

At the same time James paid tribute to the leadership of Phillips and expressed his thanks to all persons who worked on the 1968 project.

Area persons working on the campaign include Joe Davey chairman of the Lemon Grove Spring Valley area.

TEACHER AIDS

Miguel Students Prove Teen-agers Are Involved

By JACK POLLARD
News Editor

Not all teen-agers in our nation are juvenile delinquents, or problem children smoking pot, drinking and adding to the general confusion commonly tabbed to that age group.

In Spring Valley we see a number of validating points proving that there are more teen-agers who care than those who do not. Some do want to take part in the development of maturity as soon as they can.

One specific group of 16 Mt. Miguel High School students have volunteered their time and effort to help teachers on the elementary school level. These students ranging from freshmen to seniors receive no pay for their labors as teacher aids.

Only the seniors receive any type of compensation. They get one credit toward graduation requirements.

They are enrolled in a two hour course at Mt. Miguel. The class is known as "Teacher Prep."

David M. Phillips, vocational counselor at the school said that students in the program do not have to be aiming strictly at teaching as a profession, or as a major at college.

Phillips said, "The underclassmen, and even some of the seniors are not interested in becoming a teacher. They just enjoy working with the smaller youngsters.

"We do not do any recruiting methods for the program. Students come to, and inform us, that they are interested in taking part in the program," he said.

Phillips was quick to point out that the program is not a new thing.

He said, "The program has been around for a number of years. This is the first year that we have been able to expand to allow students other than seniors participate."

Of the 16 students, 13 of them aid teachers at the Avondale School in Spring Valley. Two others help out at the Kempton School while one works at the Rancho Elementary School.

Mrs. Richard Applin, kindergarten school teacher at Avondale said, "These high school students help out in many ways.

"For example, they aid in the preparation of materials for a class or they may help us in carrying out some of the physical exercises that the children are required to receive.

Are Effective

"They supervise youngsters on the playground and in the class rooms. This allows the teacher to give more individual attention to students who need th help.

"As teacher aids, they are effective and are good helpers," Mrs. Applin said.

"No one has to ask any of the high school students what they think of the program.

"All that one has to do is take a look at them on the playground with the children, or in the class room helping out a teacher or student," another teacher remarked.

Phillips said that in addition to helping the student gain a personal knowledge in working with other people, and finding out if they are fit and want to be a teacher, that the program is a great builder of character.

Those Participating

Those taking part in the program at the Avondale School include Sharon Callicoat, a senior working with first and second graders, and Candy Dean, a junior working with second and third graders.

Also Greg Evans, a freshman, working with fourth graders; Lynn Hammerschmidt, a senior working with kindergarten students and George Leyva, a senior working with fourth graders.

Lil Lockin, a senior, second graders; Patti Lucas, a senior, with sixth graders; and Lin McCapers, a sophomore working with fifth grade students.

Sue Kirk, and Shelia Stewart, both seniors, work at the Kempton School while Marian Dixon, a senior is at the Ranch Elementary School.

Donald Barnes, principal of the Avondale school said, "These students are looking for a future. This provides them with an opportunity to develop responsibilities and possibly their future."

Drive Grows To Aid Home For Retarded

One hundred and six families joined the subscription campaign this week by which this newspaper is taking part in a fund-raising, public information project for the Home of Guiding Hands.

The additional subscribers brings the total to 208 in a two week's eriod. A portion of the proceeds will be used to complete a landscaping project at the Home. The Home is a residential facility for retarded children and adults. It is located at 10025 Los Ranchitos rd., Lakeside.

In all, Home of Guiding Hands management expect more than 1,000 families to participate in the projcet.

Each week, this publication will print the names and addresses of each family who takes part in the projcet.

The publisher of this newspaper responded to a televission announcement of Mel Knoepp, a telecaster on Channel 8, who cited the dire needs of the Home. Residents here are urged to visit the home to observe the vital aid given by facility.

The Home was opened in 1967 as the most progressive and complete residential facility for mentally retarded ever built. Many of San Diego's retarded, of all ages, will call this their home; most, for the rest of their lives.

Home of Guiding Hands is owned and operated by a group of local businessmen. It is a non-profit corporation and receives no funds from tax-supported agencies, United Community Services, or other Community Welfare organizations.

Total funding for construction was $2.2 million and was accomplished through private donations and grants

Funds are desperately needed to complete the project before the rainy season comes.

Shortly after the facility was opened two swimming pools were built as a donation by members of the San Diego Chapter of the Swimming Pool Association of Southern California.

Work on landscaping could not commence until funds were available thru the generosity of local individuals and organizations to undertake soil preparation and installation of the irrigation system. These two phases have been completed, lawn seed has been planted, and some shrubs and trees were donated.

An all out effort is being made to complete the work this fall before the rainy season. Approximately $22,000 will be needed to pay for work already completed and to purchase the remaining plant materials. Donations of materials and labor could reduce the amount of cash needed.

Long Trip For Man; Up To 15 Years On Barbituate Pills

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Royal Olaf Broten, Jr., 19, 1773 Colfax, Lemon Grove, was all set on the night of Sept. 2.

He was in possion of 5,500 barbituate pills which could have lasted him quite awhile.

However, as he was walking down a street in Lmon Grove, two deputy sheriffs thought it was odd that a man carrying a filled pillow case should be having trouble carrying it.

The officers found 13 bottles of the pills that had been taken from the pharmacy at the Lemon Grove Medical Center at 3240 Main st.

Broten pleaded guilty on Oct. 4.

He said that prior to the burglary he had "gotten into his mother's cooking brandy" and that things were a little hazy after that.

While Broten was on bail for the Sept. 2 crime, the same pharmacy was broken into on Sept. 21 and an even larger amount of pills, including amphetamines, known as "speed" were taken.

Three juveniles told law officers they were with Broten during this second burglary and much of the loot was recovered.

Broten was sentenced to state prison on Friday for up to 15 years by Superior Court Judge David Coleman.

Two county doctors who examined him said in a court report that he did have drug addiction, but they did not recommend hospital treatment.

They said, "Would probably create more problems for the hospital than the hospital could solve for him."

Broten told his probation officer that his problem was not addiction, but bad luck. He said he meant bad luck in being caught.

Jamul Subscribers

Three more families were signed up this week to bring 47 the Jamul area families who are now subscribers to this newspaper.

The object of the campaign is to have enough readers in Jamul to make it worthwhile to publish news about that community.

Proceeds from the campaign will be used for Corral 44 projects. The group is comprised of young horsemen.

The new list includes:

Rodger F. Winchester, Clyde Horton, and Clifford H. Roehr.

Drug Charges Dropped Against Grove Man

A misdemeanor charge of possession of dangerous drugs against William Clifford Arbuckle, 19, of 1953 Ensenada on Nov. 6 was dropped, according to San Diego Police officials.

Arbuckle was arrested on Nov. 6 in Balboa Park under Sect. 11910 Health and Safety Code, on a misdemeanor possession of dangerous drugs charge.

Narcotics officers dropped the charge prior to arraignment.

Arbuckle was arrested with 21 other persons including 11 juveniles following a fracas in Balboa Park between groups of motorcyclists and hippies.

Arbuckle apparently did not take art in overturning trash cans and harrassing visitors although some of those arrested did.

Four persons were hospitalized following the melee due to taking narcotics or drugs, police said.

One man was knifed in the neck and was hospitalized. The wound narrowly missed his jugular vein.

More than 300 persons were attracted to the brawl, officers said, after what started out to be a love-in erupted into the clash.

AROUND SPRING VALLEY

Thanksgiving Day Related To State Of Nation, World

By TOMMY THOMAS
Editor

A few years ago around Thanksgiving Day, a couple of my Spring Valley friends were discussing the good and not so good aspects of conditions around the nation.

One of my friends, who usually is more or less a pessimist, had nothing but a blue picture to paint of the Thanksgiving holiday.

He was sure things were bad then but would get worse as the days went by.

The second friend, a bright, smiling person, with a good outlook for the present and the future, had nothing but words of encouragement for his buddy and painted a bright, rosey picture for him, as he quoted these words:

"I'm thankful for a roof above my head, And for the blessed comfort of my bed;
I'm ever thankful for my daily bread; But most of all I'm thankful for my Lord.
I'm thankful for the sun that brings the light, And for the blessed peacefulnes of night;
I'm thankful for the rain so sparkling bright; But most of all I'm thankful for my Lord.
I'm thankful as I go along, That in my heart there is a song.
I know I never will go wrong, As long as I follow His Word.
I'm ever thankful for this blessed land, And to my neighbor for his helping hand;
I'm thankful that I've learned to understand; That most of all I'm thankful for my Lord."

As we look about us we have much for which to be thankful. Here on the West Coast we are thankful we are not in the deep snow and freezing weather of the east.

In the East they are saying (I know it to be a fact) they are glad not to be in the West where people are bothered with all those "terrible earthquakes."

According to an early era of the World Book Encyclopedia, Thanksgiving Day in the United States and Canada, a day set apart annually for the giving of thaks to God for the blessings of the year.

Originally, it was a harvest thanksgiving, and while the purpose has become less specific, the festival still takes place late in the autumn, after the crops have been gathered.

Indeed it is possibly an outgrowth of the harvest-home celebration of England. Such celebrations are of very ancient origin, being nearly universal among primitive peoples.

The article told of Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, the editor of the early "Godey's Lady's Book," who took an extreme interest in Thanksgiving Day and through her efforts induced President Abraham Lincoln to appoint the last Thursday of Novefber as "Thanksgiving Day."

Mrs. Hale then won the title of "Mother of Thanksgiving."

Paul's Advice Is Sermon-Lesson Sun.

Paul's advice to the Ephesians, "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil," (Chapter 6:11) is part of this week's Christian Scince Bible Lesson-Sermon.

The Lesson-Sermon will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world. Services in Christian Science Society, 7741 Pacific ave., Lemon Grove, begin at 11 a.m.

CONRAD LEMON GROVE MORTUARY

Do we think, or just think we think?

You'd be careful, wouldn't you, not to let thieves into your home?

But have you ever thought of being just as careful about what you let into your mental home — your consciousness? Your thoughts not only determine the kind of life you lead, but the kind of person you are.

John H. Wyndham, C.S.B., of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, has proven in his own prisoner-of-war experience how an understanding of God as divine Mind — as the true source of intelligent thought — can help one survive the most demoralizing pressures, even brainwashing.

Mr. Wyndham's remarkable experiences will be recounted in his talk entitled "Do We Think, or Just Think We Think?"

You and your friends are most cordially invited to attend this free public lecture.

Teachers, Students Join Forces In Can Food Drive

To help collect canned food Helix High School teachers have joined forces with Girls' League, on organization which includes all Helix girls in their effort to help needy families.

Miss Mary Garcia, Helix typing teacher, has created a "Tree of Life" bulletin board for her first period class to encourage students to contribute can goods.

Tree leaves have been made for each of her 36 students and placed on one side of the board. On the other side is a tree trunk and branches.

When a student contributes 10 cans, his leaf is placed on the tree. The tree grows as students bring in cans.

A sequin is put on the student's leaf for each additional can he contributes.

Miss Garcia's first period class has set a goal of a minimum of 20 cans per student. As of Nov. 20, Michele Mandoff, sophomore, has contributed the most with 125 cans.

Miss Patricia A. White Weds Billy Lee Harris

Miss Patricia Ann White and Billy Lee Harris were united in marriage at the Friends Church in Spring Valley in a double ring ceremony on Nov. 6.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Virgil Simpson.

The new bride was escorted by her uncle, Frank Thomas. Maid of honor was Miss Nadene Thomas, cousin of the bride.

The bride was dressed in a white floor length gown of peaude soie with Alecon lace. Her shoulder length veil was incrusted with lace daisies.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Que bueno! Today is "El dia de gracias" (The Day of Thanks) or Thanksgiving Day. As you may know, this is a North American holiday that has little importance in the Spanish speaking world. It was started by our forefathers as a special day set aside to give thanks to God for a good harvest and many other blessings.

It is not that the Spanish speaking colony didn't have anything to be thankful for, but it was the English colony at Plymouth that began the celebration in 1621, and later Governor Bradford made it an official holiday for the Plymouth colony in 1623.

At that time, the Spanish speakers had conquered Mexico over 100 years earlier and had colonies of their own which flourished from Acapulco to Argentina and they were not invited to that first Thanksgiving day.

When George Washington made Thanksgiving Day an official national holiday in 1789 our Spanish speaking friends had established missions for over twenty years in California and were teaching the local Indian population the importance of being thankful for a good harvest.

In their own way they gave thanks (Las gracias) for some of the many things that we still find worth giving thanks for today.

Whether we speak Spanish or English we can be thankful for "buena salud" (good health), "buenos amigos) good friends), and "buena comida" (good food). We should also be thankful for the time which is alloted to us for enjoying each of these.

A Spanish toast sums it up very adequately with "Salud, amor, dinero, y tiempo para gozarlos." (To health, to love, to money, and to the time in which to enjoy them.) Enjoy your Thanksgiving Day with each of these.

Practice phrases today contain some words which may help us express our thanks in Spanish. Learn to say them with the help of the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

His ship has come upon a new way of finding enemy bunkers called, "Run, Charlie, Run." While hunting for a reported enemy bunker with the aid of a spotter, destroyer fire chased an enemy soldier all over the target area.

As the ship's salvoes came closer to the enemy, he dove into the bunker the destroyer had been looking for. The bunker was destroyed with the next salvo.

The Long Beach-based destroyer has earned the reputation as the "Bunker Blaster." While firing in support of the Third Marine Division, the ship's five-inch 38 caliber guns destroyed or damaged nearly sixty bunkers and one concrete structure, silenced four mortars and an anti-aircraft site, caused five secondary explosions and fires, and claimed 10 enemy killed.

Mexican Study Extends Sixth Graders Learning Experience

A study of life in Mexico has been much more than book learning for sixth graders in Roy Allen's class at Spring Valley Elementary School.

By and girls have also undertaken many projects in art, music, and crafts.

Allen said activities of rural Mexicans have served as a model for class activities. He said that by simulating Mexican rural life children have had experiences which have made their learning meaningful and enjoyable.

Craft work has included work with clay, weaving with yarn on looms and with reed and grass, wood carving, and adobe brick making. Children have also learned to grind corn and make — and eat — tortillas and tacos.

Using the Spanish language, youngsters have dramatized life experiences. They have also learned songs and shared Mexican artifacts owned by their families.

Social Security News

This newspaper presents this question and answer column about the Social Security program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked about Social Security.

The answers are provided by Sumio Oto, El Cajon Social Security District Manager.

Q. I will be 65 soon, but do not plan to retire yet. Is there anything I should do about my social security?

A. Yes. Even if you plan to keep working, you should file your social security application two or three months before 65. This will give you protection under Medicare as soon as you are 65. Also, in some cases it is possible to pay benefits for at least part of the year, even when you work full-time all year.

Q. I have bills from my doctor for services received in early 1967 and have never filed for Medicare. Can I do this now?

A. Yes. If you were covered by Medicare at the time you received these services, you should file right away. All claims for services received from Oct. 1, 1966 through Sept. 30, 1967 must be filed by the end of this year.

Q. I understand that I can earn as much as $1680 this year and still get all of my social security benefits. But how about the income I get from rental of a house I own? Is that income included in the $1680?

A. No. The $1680 figure on earnings applies only to income earned from employment or self-employment. Income from investments such as rentals, interests, tocks, etc., does not affect your benefits.

S. I have to buy many drugs for my condition. Why can't I be reimbursed for at least part of this?

A. There are no provisions in the Medicare Bill to allow payment of drugs purchased by an individual. Drugs administered in a participating hospital are covered.

The El Cajon Social Security Office is located at 570 North Second st. in El Cajon. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

The telephone number is 442-0851.

Los Toros Takes Top Award In Midget Pop Warner Play

The Los Toros Roadrunners did in on hour what they were working toward since Aug. 1, to be crowned the best Midget football team in San Diego County.

Last Saturday at Morse High School the National League winners, Oceaside 26-0. Oceanside had not been scored on during their league play and for the first quarter it looked as if they would continue their defensive mastery over the opposition.

But in the second quarter Shorty Banister's offensive machine shifted gears and in the next three periods Roadrunner backs Smith, Gegax, Steward, Benson, and Gann all crossed the previously untouched Oceanside goal line.

Sam Smith started the Roadrunner attack with two quick TDs in the second quarter and Doug Gegax pushed over the extra point to give the locals a 13-0 lead at half time.

In the third quarter Banister's defensive line, smelling a pass, forced Oceanside's quarterback to hurry a pass and Morris Steward picked off the interception and ran 50 yards for another Roadrunner score. Mike Benson scored in the last period and David Gann skirted left end for the point after to complete the locals offense.

The dedicated coaching staff of Shorty Bannister, Joe Cazimero, and Pat Hubbard complicated the entire Roadrunner team for an outstanding effort.

Saturday the locals travel to El Centro to take on the Imperial Valley County Champs in the Imperial County Bowl.

Helix Basketball Team Swings Into Action Tomorrow Night

By DON KIENER
Helix Basketball Writer

The Helix High School varsity basketball team will make their 1968-69 season debute tomorrow when they play San Diego High School at San Diego.

The game, which will open at 8 p.m. may be the toughest for Helix ih preseason play.

The only match-up prior to this was during the past summer, when the Scots won 51-50 in Pepsi-Cola Summer League play.

The Highlanders went on to capture the Summer League corwn with a 15-1 record. Their lone loss was to Madison, who they later trounced in the finals.

Helix, because of their fine summer league play, is considered by many to be the finest team in the county. San Diego is equal in pre-season predictions.

"We think we have a very good ball club," said Scottie coach Gordon Nash. "We picked up a good deal of experience from summer league play."

The Helix attack will be weakened however, as junior center Bill Walton will be a doubtful starter. Walton was instrumental throughout the summer league action.

The absence of Walton (6-10) rebounding will be felt, but the Highlanders strong bench may help to compensate.

Following the San Diego contest, Helix will play host to a strong Hoover squad on Saturday.

Post-Season Hopes

In order for their post-season hopes to come true the Highlanders must finish in at least fourth place in the always tough Grossmont League. Last year Helix was runner-up to Mt. Miguel in the CIF finals.

When league play begins in early January the Highlanders will face strong opposition from such schools as Grossmont, Santana, and Mt. Miguel.

"There are two or three good ball clubs in our League", said Nash, "the best of which are Santana and Grossmont."

Returning from last year's squad are senior guards Mike Getz and Bruce Menser, senior forwards Bruce Walton and Dave Unroe, and junior center Bill Walton.

Unroe, Bruce, Walton, and Menser each earned letters and Menser received Honorable Mention honors.

The Highlanders also boast great strength at almost every position, with juniors Butch Paddock, Randy Madsen, and Mike Dupree who are all possible starters.

The Highlanders will take part in the local Kiwanis Tournament and travel to Filmore, California for a similar event during Christmas Vacation in preparation for their league opener against Grossmont, on Jan. 7.

Board members are, Paul Stevenson, Ron Svalstad, Verne Watts, Bob Belt, Burt Hodge (outgoing secretary), Alex Struthers and Glenn White.

The new officers' term will run from January until October in 1969; thereafter October to October.

During the Nov. 20 breakfast-meeting of the Spring Valley Club, three new members were inducted into the club of Ron Svalstad, membership chairman; Homer Shreve, plant manager of Mt. Miguel High School; Craig Howard, retired and a resident of the Spring Valley area for the past 19 years; and Gene Rice, Casa de Oro television repairmen.

The club voted unanimously to back up the Kiwanis program, "Peter Pencil" whereby an orphan (or orphans) may be sent a useful Christmas present, which can last he or she for many years.

Guest speaker at the Nov. 20 breakfast-meeting, was Dr. Austin R. Sellery, superintendent of the Grossmont Union High School District.

He spoke on the challenge that faces education in the nation, and particularly in the Grossmont Union High School District.

He said educators are ever "anticipating", and that anticipation is "tough."

Dr. Sellery pointed out that teaching is vastly different from the problem of learning.

He said a teacher has the student only about 16 per cent of his (the student's) time. That of the rest of the student's time is another question. How he uses it to good advantage from what he has learned through his teachings is another question.

Dr. Sellery said education has its problems but needs the answers. Half of the problems, he pointed out, is for the teacher to listen.

Teachers and educators do need help, and it is up to the public to give that help, he urged. He stressed that each person in the high school district have the problem on his mind, and should he come up with an answer, to have no fear of revealing it to the proper sources.

Ruskies Like U.S. Cameras Says Lemon Grove Student

William "Bill" McGrath, who lives at 1809 La Corta, in Lemon Grove, is a 20-year old student at U. of Vienna in Austria. He attended St. John of the Cross school in Lemon Grove, University High School, and Santa Clara U.

He was near Prague when it was invaded by the Russians. We asked him to visit Czechoslovakia and give us his views on the situation.

This is what he wrote.

By BILL McGRATH

PRAGUE (Special) — Prague is a large, bustling city with wide cobblestone streets and flourescent, yellow street lights which give an eery nighttime effect. Nine of us, all students, had arrived here aout 10 p.m. after a six hour drive from Vienna.

At a downtown intersection was a jeering group of ten young Czechs around a hapless little man trying to inflate the tires of his car with a hand pump. His license plate was Bulgarian.

His country had supplied troops for the August invasion. Air was let out of his tires as a feeble gesture of vengeance. Young Czechs taunted and jeered the Bulgarian until he gave up his pitiful task. Similar treatment is given many citizens from countries which participated in the invasion.

On Prague's main streets are memorials where Czechs were killed during the invasion. These memorials are covered with fresh flowers. Citizens gather about them to pay homage.

There is little luxury in Prague. Clothing is quite simple. Designers seem mindful of the cold winters rather than current Paris fashions.

Russian troops were there but in the outskirts. In a small park just outside the city we found them. We walked up a quiet path through high trees and falling leaves. Five jeeps, two half-trucks, a large tank and about 30 Russian soldiers made up the contingent.

Soldier Spots Cameras

A soldier spotted our cameras, sternly instructed us to go back. We sent our prettiest girl to negotiate with one of the officers.

She told him we were Americans and wanted personal pictures only for ourselves. Russian officers, we learned, could not resist a pretty girl anymore than those of any other nationality.

He went for it and when she told him that one of our party, me, had a camera that produces printed pictures immediately. The Russian officer apparently had heard of that new capitalistic gadget, the Polaroid, but had never seen one. He agreed to picture taking if he could see himself in one of those "instant pictures."

When we were allowed in the military area and I took his picture, he waited impatiently during the 15 second processing period but roared with delight when he saw it.

He kept it. He directed me to take other pictures of himself, with his men and with us. To my chargin, he kept all the pictures except the last one which I insisted on retaining. I won the negotiation.

During this time about 20 other young solders joined the party to mingle with us and have their pictures taken, preferably with our girls.

After that we had a friendly visit with considerable laughing and backslapping. When time came to leave they all waved us a hearty goodbye.

It was a rather pleasant interlude in a three day visit in the Communist hospot — Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Finalists Named At Helix American Field Service

Two finalists for the American Field Service from Helix High School have been selected at Helix High School.

They are Ron Oldchurch, son of Mrs. Doris Oldchurch, 9212 Campo rd., Spring Valley and Judi Ehrenfried, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berek Ehrenfriend, 7935 Cinnabar, La Mesa.

The two were selected after answering questions ranging from world affairs to family situations. In a casual atmosphere the contenders were confronted. Their reactions were judged to determine who would best represent the United States in a foreign country.

Both students have like interests. They enjoy studying foreign languages. Because of this and the experience and excitement of living abroad, they sought to be exchange students.

The interviews proved challenging, according to school officials, but both Ron and Judi agree that the prospect of traveling is worth the discomfort of the uneasy atmosphere of the inquiry.

A preference of hemisphere was asked of each contestant, but when the time comes to leave they will go where they're sent.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

LM-SV School Superintendent Returns From Lebanon Trip

Glenn Murdock, superintendent of schools of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, returned to La Mesa Nov. 18 after a two-week visit in the American Community School in Beirut, Lebanon, and a one-week vacation in Greece.

Mrs. Murdock accompanied her husband on the trip.

The American Community School and the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District are cooperating in a Department of State-sponsored School-to-School project.

Jack Harrison and Don Wilbur, former LM-SV teachers, are school headmaster and principal of the elementary grades, respectively.

Murdock said the Lebanon school is a slightly under 1000-enrllment school ffering a grades K-12 American-type program for children of American families residing in Beirut.

Many of the parents are employed by American oil, banking and commercial interests or are in the United States diplomatic service.

All children are eligible for admission to the elementary grades. Secondary program is a college preparatory program designed primarily for young people planning to enroll in a colege or university.

Non-American children who are English-speaking are also enrolled.

Short Term Basis

Murdock said about half of the staff members apparently are those oriented to overseas work while the others are there on a short-term basis. He said he was impressed by the youthful, enthusiastic and well-prepared staff which serves the school.

Murdock said the program evidenced an emphasis on academic subjects but also provided for a balanced and complete fine arts program. Provision is made for extra-curricular activity.

Instruction is in English but all students also study French.

Murdock said there will be openings for La Mesa-Spring Valley teachers who desire the experience of living and teaching in a foreign country. He said the district will benefit because teachers who accept positions should bring back with them a broader perspective gained from the experience.

Murdock also said there will be an opportunity for individual classes which have studies in common to exchange information and materials.

Step Up Action

The Beirut school and the school district will step up the exchange of publications and curriculum materials. Cooperation in the recruitment of teachers is planned.

The American Community School in Beirut is sponsored by the American University of Beirut, the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations of the United Presbyterian Church, and the Arabian-American Oil Company with its affiliate, the Trans-Arabian Pipe Line Company.

Murdock attended a meeting of a Beirut Rotary club. French was the language. Most members also spoke English and Arabic, he said.

Following their visit to Beirut the Murdocks visited for a week in Greece. They spent some time at the American Community School in Athens and then visited the Delphi where archaelogical work has been under way for many years.

Murdock, who visited Athens for the first, said he found the city interesting, beautiful and friendly.

Letters To Santa

Each year at Christmastime, Santa Claus asks us to help him with his mail.

With the co-operation of the local Post Office, letters intended for Santa are often delivered to us.

As space permits, these letters are published, Santa Claus reads this newspaper and that is how he gets the message.

This week he will read these letters:

Dear Santa:

This year I want a mini-bike, some hot wheels, a bb gun, a chopper seat and a long, extended fork.

If you can't get me a mini-bike, get me a tape recorder. My sister wants a bike, a ball, and a Barbie, and clothes for her other one. We want a Green Ghost game and a Huff N' Puff. We have been fairly good and tried to do all our chores. I want peace.
